Ridge hike from Herzogstand to Heimgarten:

“Expert” difficulty level

“One of the finest ridge traverses in Bavarian Alps.” You would hike on an exposed ridge connecting two peaks, and enjoy a scenic view of the two elegant lakes, the vast plain of upper Bavaria, and the magnificent peaks of Bavarian Alps. This hike is not physically demanding, but it is often graded as “difficult” for its exposure, rugged terrain, and distance.

Route description and transportation (komoot page):

- Start/End: Bergstation der Herzogstandbahn (Ⓐ the upper cable car station)/ Walchensee, Herzogstandbahn (Ⓑ the lower cable car station)
- Length: 4.8 hrs, 11km/7mi, 400m/1200ft up, 1200m/3600ft down
- Approach: Kochel. Heimatbühne – bus 9608 (22 min of every hours) – Walchensee, Herzogstandbahn – cable car (€10 one-way) – Bergstation der Herzogstandbahn
- Return: Walchensee. Herzogstandbahn – bus 9608 (03 of every hour until 8:03PM) – Kochel, Heimatbühne

For participants: meet at the entrance of the venue at 12:05PM (bus@12:22), return to venue at 6:30PM. In case of excessive snow accumulation on the ridge, we will go to Sonnenspitze (komoot page). Contact: Bo Peng (bopeng@mpa-garching.mpg.de)

Benediktbeuern Abbey

The oldest abbey in Upper Bavaria, founded in 739, is located in Benediktbeuern. Storms and wars destroyed the sites of abbey's facilities in various epochs. Today's basilica, in the early Italian Baroque style, with onion domes, was built between 1681 and 1686.
